Investment objective and policy

Investment objective

We aim to deliver a greater total return than our benchmark (made up of 35% FTSE All-Share Index. 35% FTSE World excluding UK Index, 5% Investment Association (IA) UK Direct Property sector, 5% Bank of England Base Rate + 2%, 18% FTSE Actuaries UK Conventional Gilts All Stocks Index and 2% Bank of England Base Rate), after fees, over any rolling fivevear period.

Total return means the return we receive from the value of our investments increasing (capital growth) plus the income we receive from our investments (interest and dividend payments).

We use our benchmark as a target for our fund's return because it represents a diversified, long-term portfolio for charities.

Investment policy

To meet the objective, the fund manager will invest globally in government and corporate bonds with no restriction on their credit quality, equities and commodities. Investment will be made directly in such assets or through other collective investment schemes.

The fund will not hold property directly but may make investments in property through collective investment schemes Collective investment schemes include authorised unauthorised and alternative collective investment schemes including private equity funds.

The fund manager defines restrictions on how much of the fund can be invested in different types of assets. The restrictions are set at the discretion of the fund manager and will change over time. The restrictions are reviewed annually and in response to market events. Further details in relation to the current restrictions may be obtained by contacting Rathbone Unit Trust Management.

The manager may use all investment powers as permitted by the prospectus, outside the ranges described above, to ensure the fund is managed in the best interest of investors in times of market irregularities or stress.

The fund may invest at the fund manager's discretion in other transferable securities, money market instruments, warrants, cash and near cash and deposits and units in collective investment schemes. Use may be made of stock lending, borrowing, cash holdings, hedging and other investment techniques permitted by the FCA Rules.

Ethical investment policy

The fund will not invest directly in any company that manufactures tobacco or tobacco products, or derives more than 10% of its sales from gambling, high-interest-rate lending, pornography or from the manufacture of alcohol or armaments.

The ethical investment policy does not apply to investments made through collective investment schemes

Investment report for the half year ended 30 September 2023

Performance

Over the 6 months, the Rathbone Core Investment Fund has underperformed the composite index benchmark in relative terms, returning +0.7% versus the composite index benchmark at +1.2%. Our asset allocation stance was positive as being underweight to fixed income and equities added value. Stock and fund selection was mixed but negative overall. UK equities underperformed the FTSE All Share by -0.2% (+1.2% vs. +1.4%). Overseas equities returned +2.3%, behind the FTSE All World ex-UK at +4.4%. Alternatives/property were weak as discounts to Net Asset Value increased in infrastructure. property and private equity, leading to a return of -7.0% in this part of the portfolio over the period. Our short duration positioning in fixed income helped relative performance, as the bonds we held fell -2.1% compared to -6.0% for the FTSE All Stocks Gilt Index.

Portfolio activity

We purchased Amazon, the global leader in e-commerce and technology services. We believe it has high barriers to entry of distribution, convenience and choice. Amazon remains one of the market leaders in cloud hosting with its Amazon Web Service (AWS). AWS has significant long term growth prospects following the tailwind of Artificial Intelligence (AI) momentum, where businesses are being revolutionised in efficiencies with the incorporation of AI into their development strategies. We see investor expectations as more reasonable than in recent years, with the potential for the company to beat market expectations and expand the multiple, making it an attractive opportunity at this time.

We reduced Shell. Oil stocks have performed well over the 6-month period as oil prices rose and Geopolitical risks rose. We deemed it was prudent to trim the size of the position to manage risk within the Fund

Given the rise in bond yields and higher than normal cash position within the Fund, we purchased the UK government Treasury Bill 0% 15/05/2023 and Treasury Bill 0% 21/08/2023 to provide a higher return than cash on deposit, whilst still ensuring sufficient liquidity to invest cash into other asset classes should the opportunity arise.

We also increased the allocation to other bonds within the Fund. Our preference for short and longer duration bonds led to the implementation of a barbell approach. We purchased the UK Treasury Gilt 3.5% 22/10/2025 at the short end and the UK Treasury Gilt 1.25% 22/10/2041 — as well as an increase to the UK Treasury 1.75% Gilt 7/09/2037 — at the longer end. We sold the Treasury 0.875% Green Gilt 31/07/2033 to part-fund these purchases.

We continued to transition the Fund's Japan, Asia and Emerging Markets equities from third party funds to direct holdings in order to reduce costs for the unit holders and allow us to better execute our investment views at a sector and ESG level. Over the period we sold the GLG Japan CoreAlpha Fund and Baillie Gifford Japan Trust, whilst we reduced the JPMorgan Emerging Markets Investment Trust.

Market overview

Inflation rose sharply around the globe in late 2021 and through 2022, driven mainly by rising energy and food prices as well as by Covid-induced supply chain problems. However, key elements behind the surge in inflation are fading. At the same time, demand in the global economy is being squeezed, mainly as a result of tighter monetary policy. Gauges of underlying inflation among the many goods and services in the 'inflation basket' are now falling. As a result of all these disinflationary pressures, we expect that inflation will be in low(ish) single digits in the US, UK and Eurozone by the end of 2023. There is a risk that inflation declines more slowly than we expect though. Tight labour markets, particularly in the US and UK, are unhelpful in that they support strong wage growth (one of the things that central banks worry about most) which contributes to inflationary pressures. However, those measures with the best track record of leading wage growth suggest declines ahead. Interest rates are now thus very likely close to, if not at, the peak for this cycle. That said, we are not expecting rate cuts to come quickly. Policymakers will be wary of repeating the errors of the 1970s when monetary policy was loosened before inflation was fully under control.

Investment report for the half year ended 30 September 2023 (continued)

There has been a broad deterioration in global economic data in the last year and leading indicators point to more weakness to come. The UK and Eurozone are close to (if not quite in) recession as the impact of ongoing monetary tightening bites. The US economy appears to be holding up better. Even so, the risk of the US entering recession next year is not insignificant, with more monetary tightening possibly to come and the lagged effects of previous rate hikes still filtering through. Elsewhere. China's economy remains under pressure and recent trade data has been weak even if the consumer has held up better.

We ascribe a 75% probability of a global recession in the next 12 months, slightly higher in Europe and slightly lower in the US. However, any recession is unlikely to be deep. The global labour market remains in good health. Banks are well capitalised as a result of measures taken following the financial crisis. The response from regulators to the banking tremors of a few months ago was swift and decisive. In addition, we don't see the key hallmarks that have preceded previous banking crises, such as big abovetrend increases in private credit-to-GDP and falling bank capital ratios.

AIFMD disclosure

The provisions of the Alternative Investment Fund Managers Directive (AIFMD) took effect in full on 22 July 2014. That legislation requires the fund manager, to establish and apply remuneration policies and practices that are consistent with. and promote, sound and effective risk management and that neither encourage risk taking which is inconsistent with the risk profiles, prospectuses, trust deeds and deeds of constitution of the Alternative Investment Funds to which it has been appointed (the Funds) nor impair compliance with the AIFM's duty to act in the best interests of the Funds.

As the nature and range of the AIFM's activities, its internal organisation and operations are, in the Directors' opinion, limited in their nature. scale and complexity, that is, to the business of a management company engaging in collective portfolio management of investments of capital raised from the public, this is reflected in the manner in which the AIFM has addressed certain requirements regarding remuneration imposed upon it by the Regulations. The board of directors of the AIFM (the Board) consists of eleven directors (each a Director). The AIFM has delegated the performance of the investment of the Company to Rathbone Unit Trust Management Limited (the Investment Manager). As noted below, the AIFM relies on the remuneration policies and procedures of each delegate to ensure that their remuneration structures promote a culture of investor protection and mitigate conflicts of interest.

The Regulations provide that the remuneration policies and practices shall apply to those categories of staff, including senior management, risk takers, control functions and any employee receiving total remuneration that falls within the remuneration. bracket of senior management and risk takers whose professional activities have a material impact on the risk profiles of the Funds.

General information (continued)

The AIFM has appointed the Board and eleven Directors who are therefore considered to be those that have a material impact on the risk profile of the Funds, Accordingly, the remuneration provisions of the Regulations only affect the AIFM with regard to the Board. Each Director is entitled to be paid a fixed director's fee based on an expected number of meetings and the work required to oversee the operations of the AIFM, which is considered to be consistent with the powers, tasks, expertise and responsibility of the Directors. The fee payable to each Director is reviewed from time to time based on the evolution of the AIFM's activities and the aggregate fees payable are disclosed in the prospectus of the Funds. The Directors do not receive performance based variable remuneration. therefore avoiding any potential conflicts of interest. In addition, each of the Directors has waived the fees to which they would otherwise be entitled.

Buying and selling of units

The Manager is available to receive requests for the buying and selling of units on normal business days between 9.00am and 5.00pm and transactions will be effected at prices determined by the next valuation. Application forms for the purchase of units (obtainable from the Manager) should be completed and sent to the dealing office. #### Risk factors

An investment in a unit trust should be regarded as a medium to long term investment. Investors should be aware that the price of units and the income from them can fall as well as rise and investors may not receive back the full amount invested. Past performance should not be seen as an indication of future performance. Investments denominated in currencies other than the base currency are subject to fluctuation in exchange rates, which can be favourable or unfavourable.

Value Assessment

Our regulator, the Financial Conduct Authority (FCA), has asked us to assess the value of our funds. Assessing value is much more than just looking at the fees you pay or the performance of your fund in isolation. Considering this, we have designed an assessment which looks at nine criteria

We have also appointed an independent research firm, Square Mile Investment Consulting & Research, to provide an impartial report on the value our funds offer compared with the market.

It is the responsibility of our board of directors to consider the outcomes of these assessments, ensure they are clear and fair, and then communicate to you, our investors, if we have delivered value or, if not, where we need to improve.

You can view the value assessments for the Funds four months after their period end on our website rathbonefunds.com
