Manager's report for the half year ended 31 March 2021

Performance review

In the six months to 31 March 2021, our fund gained 21.4%, just below the IA UK Equity Income sector average rise of 23.4%, and well ahead of the FTSE All-Share Index's 18.5%.

We are pleased to report that we increased our interim distribution by 4% at the end of the period.

The last six months have seen much of the world start to emerge from the grip of COVID-19 on the back of huge vaccination programmes. Investor sentiment has pivoted from misery to optimism about the prospect of a sustained economic recovery as life starts to get back to something approaching normal.

The UK's remarkably successful vaccine rollout suggests our economy should restart more quickly than others. The fact that more people will need to stay in the UK for their holidays, combined with a healthier employment rate than we might have expected and a high savings ratio, all augur well for the domestic economy. Some analysts are already forecasting a bumper summer.

As confidence in the UK's 'great reopening' has gathered pace, last year's Brexit-related anxieties have steadily receded. There's clearly much to work through in terms of how the exit deal agreed with the EU may impact chunks of the UK economy. But it has put an end to well over four years of Brexit-related uncertainty. This should bolster investor confidence in UK stocks as an asset class (and, therefore, help support market performance overall) since there's nothing investors like less than uncertainty.

Over the period, UK stock markets clawed back much of the ground lost to pandemic and Brexit-driven sell-offs last year as investors, as ever, tried to get ahead of the 'real' world and to price in a vaccine-led recovery. By the end of the period, the FTSE All-Share Index was at its highest level since late February 2020. Investor focus on how reopening might impact on specific sectors and businesses drove a sharp rotation into better valued, more 'cyclical' stocks whose share prices had slumped during shutdowns because their businesses depend on a healthy and fully functioning economy. These stocks looked cheap relative to the 'quality' or 'safe haven'/'defensive' stocks that thrived when the pandemic was at its peak. As the rotation into value gathered pace, quality stocks began to lag.

Midway through 2020 we repositioned the fund to benefit from a rotation towards value – we believe this trend may have further to run.

Principal trades over the period

Our trading over the last six months reflects our gradual tilting towards stocks that are more geared into reopening (particularly of the UK economy) and less into simply surviving a COVID-dominated environment.

In October, we added to our position in plumbing and supplies merchant Ferguson, which does all its business in North America. The company benefited from big home improvement demand last year and we felt it was well positioned to thrive as a boom in US housing sales has shown no signs of abating. As we grew more confident that an industrial and manufacturing recovery beckoned, we initiated new holdings in construction and industrial equipment rental company Ashtead and in global valve manufacturer IMI early in 2021.

Banks and insurance companies are deemed cyclical businesses because they depend heavily on the vagaries of economic cycles. When economic growth strengthens, their earnings and profits tend to follow suit. We added to our holdings in Lloyds Banking Group and in insurance giant Aviva because we like their exposure to a rebounding UK economy post-COVID and post-Brexit uncertainties. Lloyds restarted dividend payouts this year, while Aviva's shares offer a generous dividend yield with growth potential.

We have held Natwest Group in the fund since May 2020 and its shares have done extremely well for us. But we significantly reduced this position in March, believing that much of the heavy lifting in terms of its share price recovery had already occurred. In addition, we were concerned about the unwelcome risks associated with a criminal case accusing the bank of weak money laundering controls.

As we added to exposure likely to benefit from a great reopening, we opted to trim our holdings in so-called 'COVID beneficiaries' – stocks boosted by pandemic-specific conditions. Since May, we have steadily reduced our exposure to consumer staples giants Unilever and Reckitt Benckiser, arguing that too much emphasis was being placed on the strength of their pandemic-driven sales (like hand sanitisers and other hygiene products) and not enough scrutiny afforded to their inadequacies. Having peaked at the start of October, shares in both businesses have reversed meaningfully versus the FTSE All-Share Index.

We also trimmed food packaging and workplace safety gear distributor Bunzl. It's another direct COVID beneficiary as the pandemic drove soaring demand for its disposable masks and gloves.

In a further move out of defensive stocks expected to generate highly predictable earnings even in difficult conditions, we sold our holding in tobacco group Imperial Brands in February.

Outlook

There's a huge caveat to all the recent good news about reopening and recovery. COVID is here to stay in some form or other. The faster our economy opens up, the greater the risk of another wave of infections. While we are investing to take advantage of any economic rebound, we are acutely aware that things could change. We always invest with a 'margin of safety'. Currently, we're finding that margin through our belief that the UK market is still very cheap relative to other geographies and asset classes. We regard this as our 'insurance' against less benign scenarios.

Last year proved particularly painful for income-hungry investors with many companies cutting or suspending their dividends. Things are certainly improving and we are forecasting healthy dividend payments in 2021.

We are confident in our ability to grow our fund's dividend by a meaningful amount this year. This confidence is bolstering our intention to engineer steady and predictable real growth in dividends as opposed to a roller-coaster ride. It's frustrating that we had to rebase our dividend last year. But, as we hoped at the time, we believe this decision will stand us in good stead in 2021.

MM Webb JR Chillingworth
for Rathbone Unit Trust Management Limited
Manager of Rathbone Income Fund
28 May 2021

General information

Authorised status

The Rathbone Income Fund is an authorised unit trust scheme, established by a Trust Deed dated 12 February 1971 and launched in February 1971.

It is a 'UCITS Scheme' authorised under Section 243 of the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000, and the currency of the fund is pounds sterling.

Investment objective, policy and strategy

The objective of the fund is to deliver an annual income that is in line with or better than that of the FTSE All-Share Index over any rolling three-year period. The fund also aims to increase income payments in line with the CPI measure of inflation over any rolling five-year period. The fund aims to generate a greater total return than the FTSE All-Share Index, after fees, over any five-year period. There is no guarantee that this investment objective will be achieved over five years, or any other time period. We use the FTSE All-Share Index as a target for our fund's return and the income we pay because we want to offer you a better income and higher returns than the UK stock market. Increasing your income payments at least in line with the CPI measure of inflation protects your future spending power.

To meet the objective, the fund manager will invest at least 80% of our fund in UK-listed shares, with the remainder in global shares, cash, short-term deposits and UK government debt. Derivatives may be used by the fund for the purposes of efficient portfolio management and hedging. The manager may use all investment powers as permitted by the prospectus, outside the ranges described above, to ensure the fund is managed in the best interest of investors in times of market irregularities or stress. The fund may invest at the fund manager's discretion in other transferable securities, money market instruments, warrants, cash and near cash and deposits and units in collective investment schemes. Use may be made of stock lending, borrowing, cash holdings, hedging and other investment techniques permitted by the FCA Rules.

This is a stock-picking fund, which means we invest in a small number of UK-listed stocks. We invest in businesses which offer the best investment opportunities at the most attractive prices. When choosing investments we use our own trinity of risk framework: price, business and financial. We look for businesses that offer good value and make strong and consistent profits with high quality earnings – those that are backed by real cash rather than accounting contrivance. Companies shouldn't have more debt than they can handle. We buy these companies because we believe they should grow generate good earnings backed by cash over many years. A healthy cash flow gives companies the flexibility to repay debts, reinvest in their businesses, and pay a dividend that increases over time.

Valuation of the fund

The fund is valued on each business day at 12 noon for the purpose of determining prices at which units in the fund may be bought or sold. Valuations may be made at other times on business days with the Trustee's approval.

Stewardship code

Rathbone Unit Trust Management Limited fully supports the UK Stewardship Code sponsored by the Financial Reporting Council. Our statement on complying with the Code can be found on our website: rathbonefunds.com

Buying and selling of units

The Manager is available to receive requests for the buying and selling of units on normal business days between 9.00am and 5.00pm and transactions will be effected at prices determined by the next valuation. Application forms for the purchase of units (obtainable from the Manager) should be completed and sent to the Dealing Office. In respect of telephoned orders, remittances should be sent on receipt of the contract note. Contract notes confirming transactions will be issued by the close of business on the next business day after the dealing date. Purchasers of units are required to enter their registration details on the form supplied with their contract note. Once units are paid for, these details will be entered on the unit register.

Units can be sold by telephone, fax or letter followed by despatch to the Dealing Office of the authorisation to sell duly completed by all unitholders.

In the absence of clear written instructions signed by all the registered holders, a Form of Renunciation will be sent out together with the repurchase contract note. This will need to be signed by all registered holders, and returned to our Dealing Office before settlement can be made. Settlement will be made on whichever is the later of four business days after the dealing date or four days after the receipt of written confirmation.

Unitholders may sell units on submitting the purchase contract note and a duly executed Deed of Transfer. The issue and redemption of units will not take place if dealing in the units is suspended by operation of law or any statute for the time being in place.

The minimum initial investment for the R-class is £100,000,000. The minimum initial investment for I-class units is £1,000. The minimum initial investment for S-class units is £100,000,000. Thereafter holders may invest additional amounts to the value of £500 or more from time to time as they wish. Any number of units may be subscribed, sold or transferred so long as transaction complies with applicable minimums.

There is no preliminary charge for R-class, I-class or S-class units.

The Manager currently receives an annual remuneration for managing the R-class property of the fund at the rate of 1.50%.

The Manager currently receives an annual remuneration for managing the I-class property of the fund at the rate of 0.75%.

The Manager currently receives an annual remuneration for managing the S-class property of the fund at the rate of 0.49%.

Statements

A distribution statement showing the rate per unit and your unit holding will be sent semi-annually on 31 May and 30 November.

The current value of your units is shown on a valuation statement, which shows the number of units bought over the previous six months, the total number of units in your account and their current value.

Twice yearly on 30 June and 31 December, unitholders will receive a consolidated statement showing, where applicable, their Unit Trust, ICVC and ISA holdings for each fund held.

ISA eligibility

The fund has been managed throughout the year to ensure that it is eligible to qualify and be included in an Individual Savings Account (ISA). The fund will at all times be invested in such a way that the units will constitute 'Qualifying Investments' for the purposes of the Individual Savings Account (ISA) Regulations 1998, as amended from time to time.

Risk factors

An investment in a unit trust should be regarded as a medium to long term investment. Investors should be aware that the price of units and the income from them can fall as well as rise and investors may not receive back the full amount invested. Past performance should not be seen as an indication of future performance. Investments denominated in currencies other than the base currency are subject to fluctuation in exchange rates, which can be favourable or unfavourable. Where periodic charge is wholly or partly taken out of the fund's capital, distributable income will be increased at the expense of capital which will either be eroded or future growth restrained.

Value Assessment

Our regulator, the Financial Conduct Authority (FCA), has asked us to assess the value of our funds. Assessing value is much more than just looking at the fees you pay or the performance of your fund in isolation. Considering this, we have designed an assessment which looks at nine criteria.

We have also appointed an independent research firm, Square Mile Investment Consulting & Research, to provide an impartial report on the value our funds offer compared with the market.

It is the responsibility of our board of directors to consider the outcomes of these assessments, ensure they are clear and fair, and then communicate to you, our investors, if we have delivered value or, if not, where we need to improve.

You can view the value assessments for the Funds four months after their period end on our website rathbonefunds.com
