Objectives and investment policy

We aim to deliver a greater total return than the Consumer Price Index (CPI) measure of inflation + 4%, after fees, over any rolling five-year period by investing with our Liquidity, Equity-type risk and Diversifiers (LED) framework. Total return means the return we receive from the value of our investments increasing (capital growth) plus the income we receive from our investments (interest and dividend payments). We use the CPI + 4% as a target for our fund's return because we aim to grow your investment considerably above inflation.

We aim to deliver this return with no more than five-sixths of the volatility of the FTSE Developed stock market index. As an indication, if global stock markets fall our fund value should be expected to fall by around five-sixths that amount. Because we measure volatility over a five-year period, some falls may be larger or smaller over shorter periods of time. We aim to limit the amount of volatility risk our fund can take because we want our investors to understand the risk they are taking in terms of the global stock market.

We split our fund's investments between three categories, which we call our LED framework: Liquidity, Equity-type risk and Diversifiers. We can invest between 0% and 30% in Liquidity assets. These can be sold easily and dampen volatility, but they also lower your potential return. We can invest between 50% and 90% in Equity-type assets. These include shares and anything that behaves like shares, which are the best tools to beat inflation and grow your capital, but they are also more volatile. We can invest between 0% and 30% in Diversifiers. These assets behave very differently to stocks and bonds, which reduces volatility and adds a layer of protection to your investment. These limits are reviewed annually or in response to changes in the market.

Our fund invests globally in the following:

- Government and corporate bonds, with no restriction on their credit quality
- Listed company shares
- Actively managed funds
- Passively managed funds
- Structured products
- Derivatives for hedging

Up to 10% of the fund can be invested directly in contingent convertible bonds. These specialist bonds, typically issued by banks and insurers, are forcibly replaced with shares if the issuer experiences heavy losses.

We can choose to hedge our overseas assets back to sterling. Hedging means we buy a financial instrument to swap the value of these assets into sterling to protect our investment from changes in the price of foreign currencies.

We actively manage our fund, which means we can choose what we invest in as long as it's in line with the investment objective and policy. Because of this, our funds performance can diverge significantly from its benchmarks over shorter periods of time and therefore isn't appropriate for investors who plan to withdraw their money within five years.

Our fund is designed for investors with a basic knowledge of multi-asset investments who seek growth. You should intend to invest for longer than five years, understand the risks of our fund and have the ability to bear a capital loss.

You can buy and sell units on each business day of the fund between 9am and 5pm in the United Kingdom.

This share class offers accumulation shares (shares in which any income payable by the fund is reinvested). Another share class in the same fund is available which offers income shares (shares in which any income received in the fund will be paid to the shareholder).

Risk and reward profile

This indicator is a measure of the fund's past volatility (the extent and rapidity of up-and-down movements of the value of an investment). It may not be a reliable indication of the fund's future risk. The risk category shown is not a target or a guarantee and may change over time.

The risk indicator for this fund reflects the following:

- As an asset class, shares have greater risk than either bonds or money market instruments.

The value of investments in the fund and the income from them may go down as well as up and you may not get back your original investment when you sell your shares.

During unusual market conditions, the risks normally experienced by the fund may increase significantly, and in addition, the fund may be subject to the following risks:

Counterparty risk: A company that we deal with may renege on its obligations, costing you money.

Currency risk: We own assets valued in a currency other than sterling and can, from time to time, protect some or all of them using hedging techniques. While we're hedged, changes in the price of foreign currencies can result in you missing out on a potential gain, but also protects you from potential losses.

Credit risk: Bonds that we own can become more or less creditworthy and will fluctuate in value resulting in gains or losses. Bonds that we own may fail to meet their legal obligations, such as missing an interest payment. This is known as a 'default' and will result in a loss.

Derivatives risk: Sometimes we use financial contracts to reduce risk. There is a chance that these derivatives won't work in the way we intended, which could result in unexpected gains or losses.

Liquidity risk: Some assets become hard to sell at their expected price. This could mean we have to sell assets below their expected price resulting in a loss. In extreme circumstances, we may suspend the fund to protect your investment, resulting in you being unable to access your money.

Management risk: People make the investment decisions for our fund. If they make unfavourable decisions, you could lose money.

Operational risk: We rely on complex systems to ensure that trades are completed, our fund's assets are accounted for and that you can buy or sell our fund. If our systems fail, you could be inconvenienced or lose money.
